RE: Tracey Bell/8 Divas Show

On May 30, 2009, we had the good fortune to book Tracey Bell for a fund raiser event for one of the extracurricular groups for our school (a grade 9 international exchange).

Tracey was booked into a family-friendly show in a 750 seat theatre in our community. In discussions with Tracey prior to the show, she indicated to me that this was not her usual venue or audience. However, no one at the show would never have known this based on the entertainment we were offered.

Tracey's show was delightful and engaging. As one of the organisers of the show, I heard many positive comments from audience members. These included comments such as, "my jaw is sore from laughing so hard," "I hope she comes back because I want to bring all my friends," and "I have never been to a show where I felt as much a part of what was going on."

Tracey's infectious humour and ability to pull from the audience and engage the whole venue was outstanding. I have had the privilege to attend many such shows in theatre venues, at street performer festivals and in conferences and have rarely seen such an ability to pick the right person to bring the audience into a show.

Additionally, Tracey was very professional to deal with. In booking the show she always offered clear and timely communication. She brought to our event the flexibility to work well with an organization made up entirely of volunteers. The appreciation we felt for this cannot be overstated.

I would happily recommend Tracey for any show in any venue. I would be happy to answer any questions you might have as you consider Tracey for a STAR award. I would strongly recommend her for such an honour.

Sincerely,

Rod Perrault
